Nicholas C. DeSteffen

4730 N Hermitage Ave. #2F, Chicago, IL 60640 • nick.desteffen@gmail.com • 312.914.2345

Senior Web Developer

Technical Proficiencies:
Ruby • Ruby on Rails • RSpec • jQuery • Amazon EC2 • Cucumber • Git • HTML • CSS • Linux • Sphinx • Capistrano
OpenCms • JavaScript • XML • MySQL • Rake • JSON • Java • Subversion • Apache HTTP Server • Textmate • Mac OS X

Professional Experience:

WisePatient – Chicago, IL (http://www.wisepatient.com)
Lead Developer - January 2010 – Present
- Ruby / Rails development / systems administration / jQuery / CSS / UI development
- Prioritize business needs with partners using Basecamp for story management and collaboration
- Performed UI design and development of new features and enhancements
- jQuery / JSON based provider search including real time patient driven appointment scheduling solution
- Developed jQuery / JSON based provider calendar / scheduling solution
- Developed API for synchroizing data from multiple 3rd party practice management systems
- Integrated with Facebook and Google Maps
- Billing solution using Authorize.net
- Text messaging solution for sending out to appointment reminders with support for confirmation responses
- Developed messaging system between patients and providers for communication and scheduling of appointments

Active Radius LLC – Chicago, IL (http://www.activeradius.com, http://www.homelifeperks.com)
Lead Developer - February 2010 – February 2011
- Ruby / Rails development / systems administration / jQuery / CSS / UI development
- Lead developer of application designed for personalizing client perks portal
- Mentored 1 junior web developer and 1 QA developer
- Primary decision maker regarding vendors and technology used
- Built out and configured multiple server environments (production, staging, demo) using Amazon EC2
- Created and maintained Capistrano deployment script
- Took charge in initiating various Agile methodologies; Daily standup meetings, TDD, story writing, continuous integration, rapid release cycle
- Performed TDD using RSpec and Cucumber, 90% code coverage
- Setup Hudson CI server for managing automated build process
- Developed web based image cropper used to customize client portal website
- Integrated with Google and Yahoo for importing of contacts
- Integrated with Facebook and Twitter to allow users to post to their wall and Twitter stream
- Developed billing system using Authorize.net
- Integrated with offshore developed client portal built on Ruby on Rails and Postgres
- Wrote scripts to load data from affiliate marketing websites, Commission Junction & LinkShare

My Health and Money LLC – Chicago, IL (http://www.myhealthandmoney.com)
Web Developer (Independently Contracted) - May 2009 – February 2010
- Member of core team that designed, built, and launched new website: www.myhealthandmoney.com using Ruby on Rails
- Participated in story writing sessions during initial concept of website and throughout development
- BDD was performed using Cucumber and Webrat
- Over 90% unit test coverage using RSpec
- Developed solution to mark users with invalid email addresses in order to reduce chance of being flagged as a spammer
- Developed process for loading monthly data feed from third party partner using Rake, FasterCSV, FTP libraries
- Took point on setting up Cucumber BDD framework for integration test coverage
- Used Nokogiri XML parser to pull data from partner website in order to quickly make new features available for members
- Wrote a plugin to bundle up application sorting logic spread throughout the codebase
- Integrated Google Maps view into facility directory

CarePages Inc. (a subsidiary of Waterfront Media) – Chicago, IL (http://www.carepages.com)
Web Developer - May 2007 – April 2009

- Member of team that rewrote www.carepages.com under a 6 month deadline to become a cutting edge social media website using Ruby on Rails and Rspec. CarePages.com has 1.5 million unique visitors and 30 million page views per month.
    - Integrated site with PayPal to receive donations
    - Integrated DoubleClick advertising solution
    - Developed solution for having over 350 unique themes and skins
    - Developed solution for uploading and displaying images
    - Enhanced user experience using AJAX technology
- Researched and implemented a CMS solution using OpenCms which reduced the number of code releases by 50%
- Practiced Agile development methodologies; focus on TDD, BDD, short iterations, story writing sessions, and pair programming
- Maintained a high quality codebase with over 90% unit test coverage
- Constantly refactored code in order to keep the codebase clean, consistent, and extendable
- Collaborated with design team to implement mockups and wireframes developed by creative team
- Partnered with QA department to maintain quality and consistency throughout the site
- Collaborated with DBA to optimize database intensive queries
- Participated in code reviews and team refactoring sessions
- Enhanced and Maintained legacy J2EE/Oracle www.carepages.com web platform
- Worked with customer support to resolve user issues
- Performed site performance monitoring

eVentive LLC – Chicago, IL
Senior Consultant - September 2006 – May 2007

- Developed reports from an Oracle database using Crystal Reports
- Maintained report repository using Crystal Enterprise
- Integrated the business workflow engine, LogicBase Studio, with Microsoft SQL Server 2005

Fiserv Health (now owned by UnitedHealthCare) – Wausau, WI
Systems Analyst - August 2003 – September 2006

- Lead developer on 3 applications; Member of team that supported 13 applications
- Performed maintenance and support of entire suite of applications hosted on www.fiservhealthservices.com and www.fiserve.com
- Responsible for working with other business units in order to gather requirements, design application screens, perform database modeling, develop core application code, and develop UI
- Key contributor in the development of the main portal application built on top of Apache Jetspeed-1
- Key contact for maintenance and support of main portal application
- Integrated OpenCms content management system into main portal
- Researched and developed several portlets to utilize AJAX technology to provide the user with an enhanced experience
- Responsible for writing business reports using Microsoft Reporting Services and Crystal Reports

Stora Enso North America – Stevens Point, WI
Intern - April 2002 – August 2003

- Created and maintained critical information displays on local intranet using ASP and HTML that was required to be available 24/7
- Wrote reports from an Oracle database in Oracle Developer 2000 and Crystal Reports 8.5
- Performed programming tasks in VB6 and VBA for internal office applications
- Various technical support and helpdesk duties

Education:

University of Wisconsin Stevens Point – Stevens Point, WI
May 2003

Bachelor of Science, Computer Information Systems